

ICAR-NBAIR Bengaluru celebrated World Environment Day

ICAR-National Bureau of Agricultural Insect Resources, Bengaluru celebrated World Environment Day on 5th June 2024. Dr S.N. Sushil, Director, ICAR-NBAIR Bengaluru highlighted the importance of preserving the healthiness of ecosystem for wellness of the mankind. Dr V. Venkatasubramanian, Director, ICAR-Agricultural Technology Application Research Institute, Bengaluru was the Chief guest. He highlighted the importance of trees in preserving the environment that provides habitats to birds, insects and several life forms. Twenty different types of plants viz., Allamanda, Tecoma, Butterfly bush, Ocimum sanctum, Ixora sp and Nerium were planted at the butterfly garden located at ICAR-NBAIR Yelahanka campus.

